Buzzard Living Aeroplane.

There can be no doubt that the buzzard is the living aeroplane to perfection. It cannot sail against the wind except as other birds do, by sheer power of moving wings, but it can sail at amazing speed before the wind, at right angles to the wind and can sail within a few points of the wind.

When there is no wind its flight is clumsy—not much of an improvement on the flying of a hen. Authors are wont to describe the buzzard as sailing in the sky on days when the earth perspires beneath a sultry, still atmosphere. But it will also be remembered that these authors invariably describe the buzzard as being a "speck in the brassy heavens." As a matter of fact that is just the point of the buzzard's aerial knowledge. When there is no breeze close to the earth it is always to be observed roosting in a tree or flying laboriously until it finds an upper current, where it can navigate without labor.—New York Times.

BEAUTIFUL THOUGHTS.

Christianity wants nothing so much in the world as sunny people, and the old are hungrier for love than for bread. The oil of joy is very cheap and if you can help the poor on with a garment of praise, it will be better for them than blankets.

Some people contrive to get hold of the prickly side of everything, to run up against all the sharp corners and disagreeable things. Half the strength spent in gambling would often set things right. No one finds the world quite as he would like it.

The power to do great things generally rises from the willingness to do small things.

We are to be rewarded not only for work done, but for burdens borne, and I am not sure but that the brightest rewards will be for those who have borne burdens without murmuring.

Why don't you create around you an atmosphere of happiness and helpfulness so that all who come in touch with you may be made better? Is not this possible? EX.

IN 1910.

In their campaign for a "dry" Missouri the Prohibitionists of the state have selected the year 1910 as the time for the big fight.
That is the earliest occasion on which they can secure a vote on a prohibitory amendment to the constitution, unless Governor Folk should call a special session of the legislature at which the necessary resolution could be adopted calling the vote for the election—that of 1908. The program outlined contemplates the introduction of the prohibitory resolution in the legislative session of 1909. Whatever the date of it may be, the plainest fact in connection with the movement is that if within the three years between now and the election of 1910 the brewers do not radically change their tactics and keep their agents and attorneys out of legislation and politics the way will be made easy for the state wide Prohibition campaign.—
